- 1. Communist organizers are forming an efficient and secret apparat for northern Galilee, with Kafr Kanna, the most important of the Arab villages in the northern Galilee area, as a focal point. Informant believes that communist activity among these Arabs is about to enter a much more active phase and that Kafr Kanna will serve as the key to northern Galilee for the communist movement. He mentions in this connection that for years the other villages in that area have followed the lead of Kafr Kanna. For the present the chief work of this apparat will be political action and propaganda.
